GILMORE HEARING SET FOR FRIDAY

THIS DATE AGREED ON WHEN AFFIDAVIT WAS FILED.

MRS. GILMORE APPEARS IN COURT DEPRESSED

Less Than a Dozen Persons Present in Justice Johnson's Court When Charge of Murder Was Filed.

The preliminary hearing for Mrs. Clemma Gilmore was set for Friday morning, August 25, at 9 o'clock, by Justice W. L. Johnson this afternoon when the information charging first degree murder was filed by Prosecuting Attorney Sawyers.

Mrs. Gilmore was accompanied to Justice Johnson's court by her attorneys, W. A. Blagg and J. S. Shinabargar, and by Sheriff Wallace. The attorneys for the defense waived the reading of the complaint and the time for the hearing, as above stated, was agreed on.

Mrs. Gilmore was dressed in black with a black hat.

She was breathing heavily, and while the proceedings were going on kept looking down at the floor. Not a word was said by her. Her brother, H. C. Shinall, was with her and accompanied her back to the county jail.

Only a small crowd was present, less than a dozen, when the information was filed. It is thought likely that the defense will not waive the preliminary and there was talk of hiring a stenographer to take down the testimony.

The affidavit formally charging Mrs. Clemma Gilmore with murder in the first degree was signed by Prosecuting Attorney W. G. Sawyers and was in part as follows:

"That Clemma Gilmore feloniously, willfully, deliberately, premeditatedly, with purpose and of her malice aforethought, did kill and murder Ella Shippas against the peace and dignity of the state. * * * Shot out of the revolving pistol in and upon the left side of the body of Ella Shippas one mortal wound of the depth of six inches and of the width of one inch, from which said mortal wound she, the said Ella Shippas, then and there instantly died."

MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Edgar McGoon, Conception Man, Run Over by Passenger—Lived Eight Hours—Home in Forest City.

Edgar McGoon, a brakeman on the Great Western railroad, who has made his home for the last seven months in Conception Junction, died yesterday from injuries received when hit by a train near Des Moines. He was found by his companions after the passenger train went by, terribly mutilated, and it is thought that he went to sleep on the track. He was rushed to the hospital in Des Moines and lived until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. McGoon, who is 24 years old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGoon, wealthy farmers living near Forest City, Mo. His parents arrived in Des Moines too late to see their son alive, and took him home today. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the family home in Forest City.

FIRE AT M. C. THOMPSON

Barn and Outbuildings Destroyed This Morning—House Also Caught But Fire Was Put Out.

The barn and outbuildings of the place belonging to George McMillan at the south end of Lovers' Lane were destroyed by fire at 6:30 o'clock this morning. M. C. Thompson is living on the place.

The fire was caused by spontaneous combustion of new hay in the barn. Two horses that were in the barn were brought out safely before they were hurt. The house also caught fire but was put out before much damage was done. Probably more of the buildings could have been saved had there been a water plug closer than the one at the end of Buchanan street. The hose would not reach and fire extinguishers had to be used.

The loss was partly covered by insurance.

PAINTER TELLS ABOUT IT

Acting Governor Declared He Knew What He Was Doing—Police Conditions "Intolerable."

Acting Governor W. R. Painter removed yesterday Dr. U. G. Crandall and Joseph McDonald as police commissioners of St. Joseph and Sam E. McPheeters of the St. Louis police board and appointed new commissioners because "police conditions in St. Joseph were intolerable."

In St. Joseph, Acting Governor Painter appointed James L. Davidson, a wholesale milliner; W. F. Davis, a commission merchant; and J. E. Cox, a manufacturer, to succeed Dr. Crandall and Mr. McDonald, whose resignations were asked for by Painter, and Henry Vogelmann, who recently resigned as police commissioner.

Governor Major, it is said, wanted to get rid of the St. Joseph board and of McPheeters in St. Louis, but as they had all been old friends, both personal and political, did not care to do the "firing" act himself. The result was the deed was done while he was out of the state.

That there has been friction between McPheeters in St. Louis and Governor Major, and what is more to the point, between Runsey and McPheeters, has been known for a long time to politicians.

"What was your reason for the removal of the police commissioners at St. Joseph?" the acting governor was asked.

"Simply because police conditions in that city have been intolerable for some time. It has been one scandal after another. The people of St. Joseph could not stand it any longer and the people of Missouri should not. I am not a crusader, but I want to see clean government there and I believe with the new appointees St. Joseph will get it."

"How about the removal of Mr. McPheeters in St. Louis?"

"In St. Louis there was a lack of team work. With Colonel Butler as McPheeters' successor I expect more efficient service and more harmonious action on the part of the board."

"Did Governor Major consult with you about these changes before he left Jefferson City for his vacation?"

"I have not talked to Governor Major personally about the matter; neither have I heard from him since I took action today."

"Then did some one who had talked to Governor Major about this situation later confer with you?" the governor was asked.

MAY GET SCOVILLE

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE TO CONSIDER HIS OFFER TOMORROW.

REQUIRES A TABERNACLE

Building Would Probably Cost $1,000—Evangelist Only Asks Guarantee of Railroad Fare.

The members of the Ministerial Alliance of the Protestant churches of Maryville and the committees chosen from these churches in connection with the recent attempt to have a revival here, will meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and consider the offer of Charles Reign Scoville to hold evangelistic meetings in Maryville during the month of September. The decision of the members will be, no doubt, to accept the services of this noted evangelist.

The Rev. Robert C. Holliday, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist church, received a letter from the evangelist this morning, saying that a change of plans made it possible for him to come to Maryville in September. About a month ago the members of the Alliance who were present in Maryville voted not to have the evangelistic meetings because the Rev. Mr. Scoville was not able to come for the month of September. He offered his services for August and two weeks in September, which time was not satisfactory in the opinion of the members. Consequently the attempt to have a series of meetings here was given up.

The evangelist's letter this morning revived the hope for a tabernacle service of the direction of this noted man, who is considered one of the most successful preachers in the work today.

The men who will represent the Baptist church are: I. E. Tebow and D. E. McDonald; the First Presbyterian, G. H. Colbert, S. G. Gilliam and Fred French; the First Christian, W. C. Frank, Alex. Holt and G. H. Westfall; the Buchanan Street Methodist, Dan R. Baker, E. T. Dale and J. H. Porter, and the First Methodist, S. H. Kemp, G. J. Moore and L. B. Tracy.

Terms Like Billy Sunday's.

The only guarantee required by Mr. Scoville is the train fare of himself and his company from the place where they will be holding a meeting before coming here. A requirement is that this be raised in subscriptions of not over $1 each.

A tabernacle must be built to cost about $1,000. A collection will be taken at every service until all expenses are met. This includes advertising, entertainment and the cost of the tabernacle. Like the Billy Sunday plan, the collections cease when these funds are secured, except for special collections for charity.

The evangelist and his party get only what is taken in free will offerings on the last day of the meeting. The evangelist will be remembered as the man who stirred Jefferson City so much last year. On the first night in which a call was made when he was at Nevada 321 went forward and professed Christ.

At the meeting tomorrow afternoon the members of the committee will decide where the tabernacle shall be built, and it is probable that the show grounds on East Third street will be chosen as the most convenient place for the meetings.

COLDEN WRITES BACK

FORMER MARYVILLE MAN TELLS OF NODAWAY DOINGS IN CAL.

HOME FOLKS SUCCESSFUL

Notes About All the Old Friends Who Are Living on the Coast—Account of Picnic.

(By C. J. Colden of Los Angeles, Cal.) "You ought to have been out at West Lake Park, Saturday. Everywhere you looked, whether in the shade of the eucalyptus, behind the palms, amid the flowers or out in the lake, you saw Missourians. The whole landscape was swarming with them. The occasion was Missouri Day in California. Every part of the state was represented. Ozarks, the blue grass hills of northern Missouri, the mineral belt, the corn fields and the big cities. You may be sure that Nodaway county furnished her full quota.

Harry Irwin Heads List.

Harry Irwin headed the list from Nodaway county, as well as the entire Missouri delegation, as he is the president of the Missouri society, and was the presiding officer of the day. Mr. Irwin is a pleasing speaker and gave the Missourians a hearty welcome. He introduced Mr. Workman of Booneville, formerly mayor of Los Angeles. Then followed other speakers, including one of the leading pastors of Los Angeles, the Rev. C. C. Sealeman, who registered from Andrew county, but who is claimed by Nodaway county as well as other sections of the old home state. Rev. Sealeman is the pastor of the largest institutional church in the West. This church has a beautiful auditorium where services are held. It also has one of the finest pipe organs in the West, a gymnasium, lecture rooms, something like 300 rooms for hotel purposes, a cafeteria and other conveniences too numerous to mention. Sunday morning Rev. Sealeman gave a special program for Missourians, and preached on 'The Handiwork of God.' There is not an institution in Los Angeles that is doing a greater work than the Trinity Auditorium, of which C. C. Sealeman is pastor.

"To get back to the picnic; there was speech making, stringed music by some real Missouri darkies, the usual hand-shaking, picnic chatter and a mild whoop or two from Red Litts.

Glad to Be Californians.

"Strange as it may seem, most Missourians are really glad they are in California. Note the word 'most.' There is a small minority who have yearnings to return to the good old days. One Missourian who occupies rather a prominent place in the city of Los Angeles was bold enough to confess that he would rather be back in Missouri plowing corn than to be in California raising dust on the boulevards. But, mind you, most Missourians out here are fond of Missouri, because of old friendships, because of hallowed incidents and sacred places about the old Missouri home, but are not thinking of moving back to make a home again.

"You have heard much of California climate. There is no question but what California climate does grow upon one. Most of you have seen California in the winter time, but the charms of a California summer time with its days of sunshine, its nights of refreshing coolness, excel even the charms of our winter, although embellished with nature's most radiant hues.

Good Roads Country's Charm.

"There is another charm about California second only to its climate, and yet this second charm is of such a common place character. It is an asset worth almost as much to California in dollars and cents as sunshine and sea breezes, and that is 'good roads.' Not until you have lived in California a few years and driven a machine does one realize what miles and miles of good roads really mean. That is one reason why a Missourian recently made a remark that he would rather live in California and drive a Ford than to live back in Nodaway and drive a Packard.

"The Nodawayites have a grievance against one of their old friends whom they believe has been mis-informed and mis-directed on his recent trip to California. Some of them feel that Judge Ellison ought to make a return trip to Southern California in order that he may be properly shown. It seems that those who entertained him the past winter were unable to show him corn and hogs and other Missouri (Continued on Page 3.)

FEDS WIN TOURNEY

LOCAL TEAM GETS FIRST MONEY AT SHENANDOAH.

PROTEST IS SETTLED

Called First Game Tie, and Gave First Prize to Maryville, for Winning Last Two.

Final standing in the Shenandoah tournament:

	Won.	Lost.	Tie.
Maryville	2	0	1
Shenandoah	2	1	0

The Maryville Feds won first money in the tournament at Shenandoah, which ended yesterday. It was decided that the protested game should be called a tie and that the Feds would be entitled to first money, providing they won their other two games. And they did, winning from Red Oak Thursday 7-0 and defeating Shenandoah yesterday 4-0. The last score made against the Feds was in the third inning of the game with the Imperials Wednesday. So the Feds have shut out their opponents for the last twenty-four innings.

Shenandoah was loaded yesterday, but still lacked something. They had the services of two or three league stars, but they could not score for the Shenandoah bunch.

Thienman and Hecker were the battery for Maryville. The game was a pitchers' battle, as each team got only three hits. Stewart, at short for the Feds, cut the Iowans out of a score with a brilliant stop and throw.

Shenandoah took second in the tourney and Council Bluffs third. Red Oak was a poor fourth, not winning a game.

WILSON SUMMONS R. R. PRESIDENTS

EXECUTIVE WOULD MAKE EACH COMPANY SHARE RESPONSIBILITY

ANOTHER CONFERENCE CALLED MONDAY

Issues Ultimatum to Roads Demanding That They Accept 8-Hour Proposal and Also Overtime.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Aug. 19.—It is announced that the president would summon by wire all the railroad presidents in any way interested in the pending strike and not now represented. It is stated that the president wants all the railroads to share in the responsibility if the strike is precipitated. Another conference is called for Monday.

Won't Accept Invitation.

Just before the conference it was decided by the railroad managers not to accept the president's invitation to a joint meeting. The railroad presidents sat at a meeting of the chairmen holding lengthy arguments setting forth the side of the railways, which will be left with Wilson for inspection.

While the railroad presidents were explaining to President Wilson why they couldn't immediately grant the employees eight hours a day, the president issued to the public what is in effect an ultimatum to the roads demanding that they accept the plan that the eight hour a day proposal has the sanction of society in its favor, and should be adopted even in the case where the work called for could not be done in eight hours. He declared that only through experience can it be determined whether the railroads cannot carry on business by granting the concessions.

President Demands Acceptance.

The president demanded that the railroads accept the proposition already accepted by the employees and permit the overtime. He suggested that the proposals be passed upon by a congressional commission, accepted in official circles. The president's statement is designed to hold the railways responsible for the refusal to accept his plan. The conference between the president and the railroads ended at 12:20 o'clock.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Conference between the railway presidents and the President began at 11:30 this morning.

While the Republican candidate is proclaiming throughout the west that President Wilson is a man of words and not deeds, the latter is remaining at the desk of duty in Washington assisting in every way possible in the enactment of legislation valuable to the country.

Had Huerta been a citizen of this country instead of a Mexican, and lived in a Republican state, he certainly would have occupied one of the seats of the mighty in the United States senate, and alongside of Penrose, Smoot, Gallinger and Harding would have been a standpat in the old guard of protection, privilege and presumption.

GRAVES OUT ON BAIL

IT IS BELIEVED HIS ARREST WILL BREAK UP ALLEGED AUTO GANG.

IS PAGE FITE IN GANG?

Bedford Paper Says Fite is Wanted—
Report Graves' Bond Furnished
by Arrested Man.

The Bedford Times-Republican in yesterday's issue had the following:

Ed Graves of near Elmo, who was confined in the county jail here, charged with the theft of Abe Miller's automobile, was released Tuesday afternoon, Henry Reed, a banker of Shenandoah, appearing at the county clerk's office and depositing a certificate of deposit on the Gravity State bank for $1,500, the amount of the bond as fixed by Justice M. A. Sawyer at the preliminary hearing Monday afternoon.

Graves, it will be remembered, was arrested Sunday morning, August 6, at his home, near Elmo, by the sheriff of Nodaway county, who accompanied Taylor county's sheriff and party to the suspect's house. He was brought to Maryville and lodged in jail pending the securing of requisition papers from the governor of Missouri, which arrived in time for him to be brought to Bedford on the night train Friday. The hearing was held Monday afternoon, August 14, the prisoner waving examination, and the justice binding him over to appear before the grand jury in September and fixing the bond at the amount above stated.

Friday or Saturday County Attorney Burrell received a telephone communication from an attorney of Council Bluffs, giving his name as Tinley, who stated that he was the attorney of Graves, and proposed that if the county attorney would consent to a bond of $1,000, Graves would come to Bedford without requisition papers, waive examination and put up the bond.

Mr. Burrell was disposed to accept the proposition, but Mr. Sawyer strongly protested, and stated that he was not willing to fix the bond at an amount less than $2,000, but the matter was finally adjusted by fixing the bond at the figure stated.

Graves announced to the sheriff that one Colwell or another named Page Fite would be here to arrange for the bond, but Colwell was arrested by the Omaha police on Sunday evening and Fite had a narrow escape. The police phoned the sheriff here to arrest Fite if he appeared here, but he failed to appear, and is still at large.

The Shenandoah banker, Henry Reed of the First National bank of Shenandoah, states that two men of near Elmo, Mo., appeared at his bank in Shenandoah Tuesday and put up the cash and arranged for him to come over and deposit the money for the appearance of Graves.

After his release, Graves, accompanied by his wife, who came up Monday, went to McCoun and Brant's office, who were his local attorneys, and in a few minutes after Ed Herriott was called and took the pair to Sham-baugh, where their further movements have not been heard of.

Monday afternoon, following the preliminary, a farmer in the neighborhood of Graves' home appeared at the court house and talked over the matter of giving bond, but made no arrangement.

A recent article in the Des Moines Register and Leader quotes the sheriff of Polk county in a statement that at least forty cars, with the engine numbers filed off and another number stamped on have been found in the vicinity of Maryville, and that men from all over the middle west were trying to locate missing cars there. Commenting further, the sheriff said that six cars were stolen in Omaha Saturday night and that three or four were missing every day at Lincoln, and that many were disappearing from Iowa. The thievery is assuming gigantic proportions and it is hoped that the Graves case will lead to the right scent and result in the breaking up of the gang. As to Graves returning for examination before the grand jury in September, there is slight hope. If he appears here again it will be because he is brought here by an officer, is the general belief.

Queer Names of Flowers.
The names of some of our prettiest flowers are so queer that they seem amusing to us. Nasturtium, for example, comes from the Latin word meaning "twisted nose." Verbena is from the Latin for "twig" and lavender is derived from the Latin word lavare, to wash, and is really the same word as "laundry." Lavender probably got its name because it is put away with newly washed clothes.

Cornflower undoubtedly gets its name because it grows among the rows of corn. Goldlocks looks like a little yellow head. Honeysuckle is one of the sweetest blossoms and one of the easiest from which bees get their honey.

Anemone is our "wind flower." Its name comes from the Latin word anemos, which means "wind," and the anemone is really a wind flower, growing best in exposed, windy places. Orchid is named for the Greek word orchis, which means "bag." Orchids always have curious little bags.—Kansas City Star.

STORM CAUSES LOSS

HIGH WIND AT CORPUS CHRISTI
REACHES 120 MILES AN HOUR.

Great Damage to Property and Injury to Persons Reported—70,000-Ton
Steamer Missing.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.
Dallas, Aug. 19.—Communication with Corpus Christi, which felt the full effects of yesterday's storm, was restored for a short time over long distance today. It was learned that the wind reached the velocity of 120 miles per hour, wrecking summer cottages and causing heavy damage to business districts. Many were injured by flying timbers, but the loss of life is reported very small.

San Antonio, Aug. 19.—General Parker reported from Brownsville that there was no loss of life among the troops as a result of the storm that caused such a heavy property loss. Large quantities of military equipment were lost.

Galveston, Aug. 19.—Apprehension is felt for the 70,000-ton steamer Fort Morgan, which is thirty-five hours overdue from Puerto, Mexico. The steamer carries a crew of twenty-three, but the number of passengers is unknown. Nothing has been heard from the Red Snapper fleet which probably ran into a storm.

HANDS CARRY GERMS

MANY DISEASES PROPAGATED BY UNCLEAN FINGERS.

Infection Carried to Mouth by Careless Persons—Rules for Avoiding Sickness.

Disease germs lead a hand-to-mouth existence. If the human race would learn to keep the unwashed hand away from the mouth many human diseases would be greatly diminished. We handle infectious matter more or less constantly and we continually carry the hands to the mouth. If the hand has recently been in contact with infectious matter the germs of disease may in this way be introduced into the body. Many persons wet their fingers with saliva before counting money, turning the pages of a book or performing similar acts. In this case the process is reversed, the infection being carried to the object handled, there to await carriage to the mouth of some other careless person. In view of these facts the U. S. Public Health Service has formulated the following simple rules of personal hygiene and recommends their adoption by every person in the United States:

WASH THE HANDS IMMEDIATELY

Before eating.
Before handling, preparing or serving food.
After using the toilet.
After attending the sick, and
After handling anything dirty.

Black Chocolate Icing.

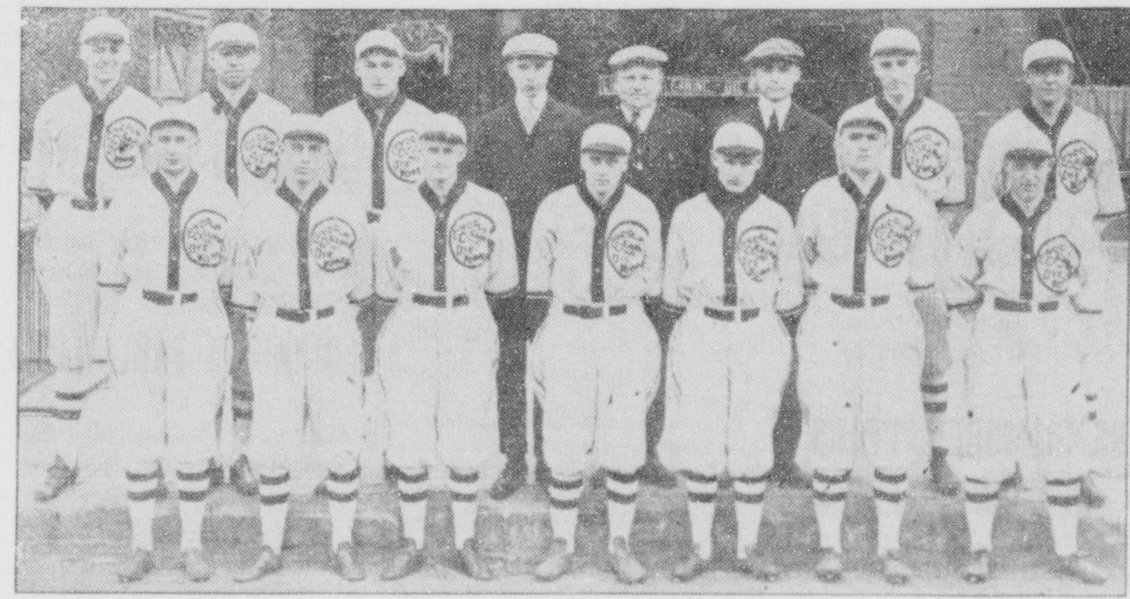

When a black chocolate icing is wanted and there happens to be no chocolate in the pantry cocoa can be substituted for it in the following manner: Mix together six even tablespoonfuls of cocoa with five of sugar, one of butter and three of hot water. Cook the mixture until smooth and in the right condition for spreading. Test it by putting a little in a saucer and setting the saucer on an outside window ledge or where it will cool quickly. This icing is rich and dark and not very sweet.

Lincoln Cleaners, Neb. Amateur Champions, Who Play Here

The Lincoln Cleaners come to play the Feds tomorrow. They are the champions of Nebraska in the amateur circles. After twice winning the city championship of Lincoln and defeating everything from Omaha. They played the team at North Platte, Neb., for the championship of the state. The Cleaners won the game 3-2.

This team from the Lincoln Cleaning and Dye works is composed of an aggregation of ex-state league stars, who have quit the game for business interests. "Deacon" Meyers and Jack Pendleton divide the box duties for the Nebraskans. They were both stars in the Western league. They have had good offers to return to the big game. Clifford Hans, first string catcher, was a star in the Mink league a few years ago, playing with Nebraska City. George Miller, outfielder, was rated as one of the best all-round players in the Nebraska State league for several seasons. Several other players on the team have received offers from league teams but refused to leave their business. Frank Cunningham is manager of the Cleaners and is said never to sidestep a challenge.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week the Feds go to Clarinda to take part in another tournament there. The other teams there will be Shenandoah, Burlington Junction and Cornning, Ia. The tournament here will be August 30, 31 and Sept. 1. Four teams will be here also, Shenandoah, Albany and the Feds, and either Burlington Junction or Bedford.

FEDERAL BOARD WOULD AVERT RAILROAD STRIKE

Having voted for a strike if their demands weren't met, 300,000 railroad employees, members of four brotherhoods, are being approached by the federal board of mediation and conciliation in an effort to avert a walkout. These are the federal commissioners: Left to right, Judge William L. Chambers, Judge Martin A. Knapp, chairman, and G. W. W. Hanger.

BOY ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Tries to End Life Because, He Says,
Mother Beat Him.

Waterbury, Conn. — Nine-year-old Stephen Williams of 153 Charles street attempted suicide by leaping from the guard about the unfinished Brooklyn bridge, over the Naugatuck river, because, he said, his mother beat him.

Passersby caught the lad by the ankles just as he jumped and dragged him to safety.

Sisters Meet After Fifty Years.
Scranton, Pa.—Mrs. Ella Anderson, aged sixty-six, and Mrs. Fannie Merriek of Little Marsh, Pa., sisters, embraced each other at a family reunion in Elbridge park recently after not seeing each other for an even half century. They were brought together by a third sister, Mrs. A. C. Shaw of Elmira Heights, N. Y.

products. Ben Litts has a little hog ranch in mind down in Orange county. He would like to show this to the Judge. Ben declares on oath that on this one ranch he can show the Judge 25,000 hogs. If this does not satisfy Judge Ellison, he has a few other ranches a little further on equally interesting. Other Missourians are willing to devote enough time to the Judge to show him some corn fields, real corn fields. Frank Rowley suggests that if the Judge would like to see a few chickens he will hunt up a hatchery where he can show him young chicks, not by hundreds, but by thousands, and not in modest numbers, either; but just to lend a little thrill to the chicken business he might offer to show him a hatchery with forty or fifty thousand at the proper season of the year.

Ellison is Misinformed.

"But the Missourians do not blame Judge Ellison altogether of this misconception of California. It is hinted around in the inner circles that this mis-information has been furnished by Scribner Beech and Howard McCommon of San Diego. Californians recognize that San Diego is not an agricultural district. Some of the Missourians, too, are not willing to accept Scribner Beech as an authority on agriculture, although they will concede that Howard McCommon has ideas on the subject. When it comes to silver-tongued oratory and contagious humor and cabaret connoisseurship, the Missourians all admit that Scribner Beech has few superiors, but they do not have an unflinching faith in his judgment pertaining to sixteen to one and to California farming.

Scribner Beech Horticulturist.

"Out here in California and down in San Diego—a very attractive little city in the far corner of the state, which is widely known because of the plenty of its superannuated gentlemen and the innocence of its antiquated dames—our old friend, Scribner Beech, is flourishing as a horticulturist. In truth his specialty is not agriculture. Not long ago a citizen of Los Angeles and a friend of Mr. Beech, had occasion to visit the section of San Diego where Mr. Beech lives. Although this Missourian started out to visit the Beech preserves and spend a few hours in his rocking chair under his back yard palm tree, he was disappointed by an unforeseen incident. However, he got part way out on the car line and made some inquiries of the street car conductor as to the residence of Scribner Beech. "Don't know him," the conductor responded.

"You don't know Scribner Beech?" the question was repeated.

"Nope. Know everybody on this line; even know the names of the babies and dogs on the route, but never heard of Scribner Beech. What kind of a looking fellow is he?"

"It was explained that Scribner Beech is a very handsome gentleman with silvery locks and a fascinating smile, winning ways, and, as an afterthought, it was suggested that he was also quite a joker.

"Now I got yer," smiled the conductor. "I didn't know his name was Scribner Beech. He is from Missouri, aint he?"

"That is the man," was the reply. "Called 'Old Peach Tree'."

"Oh, well, I know who you mean. We call him Old Peach Tree here. Regular old wag, isn't he?"

"Of course, that was Scribner Beech. There could not be any mistake about that.

"But what about this peach tree business; why do you call him 'Peach Tree'?"

"Oh, well, that is an old story," the conductor explained. "When he first located on this line he did a lot of planting. One day he got the street car with a little peach tree about the size of a lead pencil. He enthused a good deal about it, too. He showed us this peach tree and told us all about raising peaches, and invited us all out the next week to eat peaches. So we call him 'Old Peach Tree'."

The Missourians out in California wish to warn Judge Ellison that the agricultural teaching of Scribner Beech is as uncertain as that of W. T. Garrett, of the good old days.

But here we have wandered again from the picnic out in Westlake Park. After the speech making in good old Missouri fashion, we gathered around our baskets and spread out eatables and talked about old times and old friends. Of course, many of them were absent, being too busy with their daily cares, but the writer will give you some of the reminiscences which were gleaned.

Maryville has always been famous for her barbers. They carry their reputation with them. O. W. Grover is busy with the razor and the scissors in a Los Angeles shop. He invites all Missouri to move out to California and bring the state with them. Mrs. Grover is thoroughly satisfied with California life and is very happy here. Nellie Wolfe is married and lives in Santa Barbara, and is the mother of a boy. Ned Wolfe is married, is employed in the office of the Swift Packing company and is the father of a boy. Bernice Wolfe is married and is the mother of a girl. Gladys is living at home and is employed as cashier by the Broadway Department Store.

Winnie the Same Fellow.

Of course, everybody remembers Winnie Woodard of Barnard, Parnell and Maryville. Winnie owns a shop and is the same genial, big-hearted fellow of the old days. There are a few streaks of gray in Winnie's hair, but he seems to grow sunnier out here in California. Ona Woodard, his wife, is as charming and as full of energy as ever. When it comes to getting up Missouri dinners there isn't anybody this side of New York who can beat her. In addition to her household duties, Mrs. Woodard is the secretary of a socialist club and a member of the Socialist County Committee. Since ladies vote out here in California she has become a full-fledged politician, and although Winnie is somewhat of a socialist himself, he is not a bit ahead of his talented wife.

"Most Maryvillians remember Ethel Clark. She is still a very attractive girl, and nine years in California has but added to her charms. She is the wife of M. J. Monnette, one of the wealthy men of Los Angeles, and they occupy a very beautiful home in the most desirable residence district of Los Angeles.

"Amelia McAdow, daughter of Dr. McAdow, formerly of Barnard, has been out West for twenty-five years and is now thoroughly acclimated to California.

"Mr. and Mrs. Ben Litts and Frank and Wick are living in Los Angeles and are conducting a restaurant. Ben has been struggling with a very serious affliction for some time. He is improving very rapidly at present. His friends expect that he will be thoroughly recovered within a short time. He began on the upward mend about the time of the Chicago convention. Previous to that time he had almost a fatal attack of Tedydicia. Mrs. Litts is enjoying good health, but her affections seem to be divided between Missouri and California. We are not sure which will finally win out. Effie Litts and her husband are in Los Angeles at present. Effie attached herself to a fine looking fellow and a prosperous contractor and a seven-passenger car of the latest model. But Effie is the genial, pleasant girl of the old days at Maryville.

Ramsays Live in Glendale.

Judge W. W. Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey live in Glendale and have a beautiful home half hidden in fine old pepper trees. The judge is in fairly good health only, but continues to take a great interest in public affairs and is still the entertaining conversationalist of Maryville days. Judge Ramsey is very much in love with California and sends greetings to all his Missouri friends, and wishes them all the good fortune of spending a portion of their days in sunny California.

Blanche Holt, daughter of Jack Holt, is the wife of a Los Angeles printer.

"Gladys McKee, formerly of Parnell, is teaching at Santa Barbara at something like $100 a month.

"Ruby Melvin has a good position in the Long Beach schools.

"Ben Milligan is principal of one of the suburban schools near Los Angeles and is doing splendid work. His mother and sister reside at Long Beach.

"Frank Rowley lives in Los Angeles, but devotes his time to a pear orchard up in the mountains. Frank's pear orchard consists of 113 acres. He has been very successful in horticulture and at various times has been interested in walnut and lemon groves, alfalfa growing and allied industries. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rowley, or Deacon Rowley, are living in Los Angeles and have reached the ripe old age of eighty years. Julia Beers, sister of Mrs. Frank Rowley, is married, and her name is Fine. Sarah Beers is also married to a man by the name of Dickenson.

He Raises Lemons.

"Wes Bales has moved to the country and is prospering in rural life. He is busy with a ten-acre lemon ranch and is marketing them at the fancy rate of $7.00 per box. In spite of the splendid prosperity he is enjoying, it is said that he is really not converted to Woodrow Wilson. It is also said gossip that Wes Bales has shaved his whiskers, is as thin as a flag pole, and about the only resemblance he has to his former appearance is his voice and his G. O. P. tendencies. There is no hope for Wes Bales, politically speaking.

"W. D. Culbertson and his wife, who was Lena Felter, are living in Long Beach; so is Mr. Culbertson's mother, Mrs. A. M. Culbertson.

"Joe Maltby, genial Joe of Burlington Junction, lives at Long Beach. He is just as fat and jolly and does not seem to grow old at all.

"One of Tom Garrett's boys, who married a daughter of Joe Maltby, lives in Long Beach and has a responsible position in a bank there.

"Buck Whitney is a resident of Long Beach, also.

"J. J. Bryant, well known teacher in Northwest Missouri, is practicing osteopathy in Long Beach and is a member of the faculty of an osteopathic college in Los Angeles. His daughter is married and living in Los Angeles.

"Ben Kirtley and Charlie Lynch are Los Angeles carpenters. William Dawson is a Pasadena butcher and cuts choice steaks for California millionaires. John Dawson, his brother, is an osteopath. William Chambers also lives in Pasadena. Bert Taylor and his brother-in-law, Fred Hubbel, are both living in Los Angeles. Fred Hubbel is the owner of a ranch and devotes much of his time to it. His younger brother is living on Fred's ranch. There is another Bert Taylor, formerly of the Knabb district, who is with one of the leading drug companies of Los Angeles.

George Shelton, a Plutocrat.

"George Shelton, formerly of Maryville and a merchant there, is the most plutocratic Nodaway resident of Los Angeles. He has a fine home in the fashionable district, drives the best automobile and looks more cityfied than most of his corn-buskers. Shelton is a real estate operator and at the present time is sub-dividing acreage. Mrs. Shelton, known among her friends as 'Fritzie,' is very happy in California; although she has pleasant memories of many friends, she has no desire to live anywhere but in California. She is one of the most charming hostesses in Los Angeles, and those who have the good fortune to get their feet under her table are always thoroughly entertained. The Sheltons have a third member of the family, Wilson, who is now in school and is a real live chap.

A Leading Physician.

"Joseph Carter, son of William Carter of Burlington Junction, is one of the leading physicians of this city. Although he has been here less than two years he has gained a splendid practice and is one of the foremost specialists of this city. Mrs. Carter, formerly Artie May Mason, is devoting much of her time to music and is one of the leading club women of Hollywood, where the Carters live.

Speaking of Hollywood reminds us that Claud C. Craig, son of Louis Craig, is one of the leading business men of that popular Los Angeles residential district. Mr. Craig is also interested in the cultural side of Hollywood and one of the leading spirits in the production of the out door spectacular production of Julius Caesar. Mr. Craig also writes scenarios for the moving picture people, who have a number of studios in this vicinity. One of his recent scenarios pictures three Maryville schoolma'ams making a trip to the South Sea Islands. So watch the movies if you want to witness Maryville fame, because Nodaway county is versatile enough to produce other artists than those of water tower and fried music fame who may lean New Yorkward.

"Jack Wood of Elmo is in the city auditor's office. Elder McFarland, Mrs. Will Alkire and Mr. Whip and some others live in Pomona.

"Sammy Gooden, formerly of near Ravenwood, but now of Texas, is in the city visiting with one of his sons.

Nodaway-ites Versatile.

"To illustrate the versatility of Nodaway county, one of the leading cafes of this city employed Mr. Albright, formerly of Skidmore, to do cabaret entertaining the past winter.

"Charlie Heflin and family are among the late arrivals, and Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, formerly of the Maryville Republican, have a cozy bungalow in southwest Los Angeles. Mr. Hutchinson is writing insurance and Mrs. Hutchinson is busy with her boys. A. C. Wier is brother-in-law to the biggest bank in Los Angeles and has charge of the real estate loans. For two or three years he lived on a Southern California ranch and his friends say he could burn more gasoline and raise more dust on the boulevards than any other farmer they have ever known.

"Now, Mr. Editor, we have reported the doings of the Nodaway delegation as we gathered it at the Missouri picnic. We presume by the time this letter is mailed we will think of a half dozen or so who have not been mentioned, but we believe this list will convince you that Missouri has contributed a great many citizens to California and that Nodaway county has done her share. Most Missourians out in California continue to be conservative, economic and democratic. Considering that California is inclined to be over-optimistic, rather extravagant and outlandishly republican, Missouri brings a leaven to California that we hope will sometime correct all the imperfections of our adopted state.

"And all the Missourians out in California join in an invitation to home folks to come out and visit the Golden West. All Missourians deserve an occasional rest from toil and care, relief from the heat and the cold, the hay and the corn. Come out and get the inspiration of mountain and desert and the refreshing vigor of the sea. Southern California is not only blessed with these, but it has citrus groves, flowers of every hue for every month and gladness in its heart for the stranger from every state."

Something extra fine in Ranges at Hudson & Welch's—the Blue Beauty Range.

LOCATION IS OF IMPORTANCE

Most Farmers Would Rather Live Six Miles on Hard Road Than Three on Muddy One.

From a study of 650 farms in Johnson county of that state the Missouri experiment station concludes that location is more important than crop yield as a factor in land values. Here are the figures: Seventy-nine farms within two miles of market averaged in value $78.80 per acre; 183 farms, two to four miles from market, $70.20 per acre; 126 farms, four to six miles from market, $60.90; 113 farms, six to eight miles from market, $53.20, and 149 farms, over eight miles from market, averaged $55.90 per acre. An unmentioned but important factor is condition of the road. Were these farms located on hard roads or on dirt roads inclined to be heavy in wet seasons? Most folk would rather live six miles out on a permanent hard road than only half as far on a muddy road. Let us have more light on this interesting question.—Farmers' Review.

Attention to New Road.

When a piece of permanent road is finished it is a big mistake to let it go without frequent attention. It begins at once to deteriorate through wear and weather, and if neglected it will be only a few years before it will require an expensive rebuilding. It is economy to employ a "road builder" whose duty it is to give the roads a weekly mending.

Makes Good Road Booster.

The auto makes a kicker into a good road booster.

SIMPLE PLEASURES.

Seek and enjoy the simple pleasures. All God's pleasures are simple ones—health, the rapture of a May morning, sunshine, the stream blue and green, kind words, benevolent acts, the glow of good humor.—Robertson.

What He Lacked.

"Now," said the pert salesman sarcastically as he waited to put back the rolls of calico, "can't you think of something else I could show you?"

"Yes," replied the customer, "but I don't think you've got it."

"What is it?"

"More courtesy!" was the withering reply.—Exchange.

A Hummer.

"Do you still call your wife honey?" "Yes, and I keep as busy as a bee supporting her."—Boston Transcript.

SCISSORS FOUND

RAVENWOOD GAZETTE.

We were just thinking about saying something nice about our sister town Conception Junction, but we've changed our mind, and unless some one gets busy down there cutting the weeds from the depot up to town along the walk it will be Katie bar the door, for we'll never say anything nice.

Probably one of the biggest and best hog sales ever in Nodaway county and northwest Missouri will be the J. D. Gates & Sons Spotted Poland-China sale at the farm west of town, September 6.

PARNELL SENTINEL.

Nobody is kicking about not having enough rain during the last week. This part of Missouri has certainly been blessed with rain just at the right time. Crops of all kinds are looking good. The corn crop is going to be a bumper in this section.

Riley Webb, the great truck man, was delivering tomatoes in town Saturday and Monday. He will have about 400 bushels of tomatoes, 700 or 800 bushels of onions, lots of potatoes and other garden stuff.

Parnell's big picnic will begin Thursday of next week and will last just three days. There will be something doing each day, so do not fail to be present all the time.

CLEARMONT NEWS.

There was a family reunion at the T. L. Hart home, south of town, yesterday. Those present were his father, Samuel Hart, his sister Margaret and brother Fred and family, all from near Coia, Ia., a sister, Mrs. Comin, husband and children from Lamar, Ia., and his brother Farrell, wife and children from near Summerfield, Kan.

R. R. Broyles went down to St. Joseph Monday morning and returned in the evening, bringing his daughter, Mrs. Hazel Carroll, home with him. She just recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and will remain here until she fully recovers. She is getting along nicely now.

ELMO REGISTER.

The storm on Wednesday of last week seems to have been worse south-west of Elmo than it was here. The papers have exaggerated the damage done here, but southwest of Elmo it must have been pretty severe. The church at York was destroyed by the wind.

A community torn by dissensions, rent asunder by strife and contention—the people ready always to fly at each other's throats on account of rivalry and petty jealousies—can never hope to succeed. The universal brotherhood of man is constantly deferred and the end of time will appear before this great desideratum can be

TRAFFIC IN SOULS

6 REELS 700 SCENES 500 FLAMING

ONE SOLID YEAR IN NEW YORK

Famous Screen Sermon at the Fern. "Traffic in Souls," the wonderful photo drama of the day will be shown at the Fern theater. This picture is the only picture of its kind that ever passed the Kansas state board of censorship. "Traffic in Souls" is the only photo play in the production of which the New York police commissioners co-operated. At its completion the following quotation shows just what a powerful weapon this unusual drama is: If every girl could see this play, if every mother could see this play, if every father could see this play, there would be a lessening in number of the thousands of girls and women who disappear each year, girls who are still living but in the grip of the white slave traffic, which is worse than death.

G. B. Tracy, secretary of the committee of the suspension of vice in St. Louis, said: "Traffic in Souls" is the greatest moral lesson I have ever seen in any form. It is what all girls should see warning them against men who show undue interest in them upon a first meeting." There are 600 people in this stupendous production, 700 scenes.

"Traffic in Souls," in order to prove a telling warning, shows the actual lairs and dens of iniquity of the white slave. This masterpiece of reality ran one solid year in New York. Positively no children under 16 admitted, unless accompanied by their parents.

brought about, unless man shall be brought to the realization of this, his dominant weakness. Let him inquire, "Who is my neighbor?"

SKIDMORE NEWS.

When the announcement was made through the News that Col. W. J. Bryan would lecture at Skidmore during the chautauqua, which closed last Monday, Mr. Moorhead of the Hopkins Journal confessed that he had never visited Skidmore, one of the nicest little towns in the county, but stated somewhat to the effect that if he was alive he was coming to Skidmore when Col. Bryan lectured. Well, Skidmore usually gets what they go after, and Col. Bryan was here. As Mr. Moorhead was coming if alive there was only one condition left for Skidmore to have him, that was to go after him—but we didn't want a dead man. Should we say, "Peace to his ashes?"

T. W. Cooper, formerly superintendent of the Skidmore school was here last week and shipped his household goods to Hamilton, where he is superintendent of the schools of that place. The C. B. & Q. Railroad company has completed the work of laying a cement walk on either side of the railroad track from the east end of the road track. This makes the cement town to the west.

Beagle and wife and children of Creston, Ia.; Mrs. John Merrell and children, Jack Hager and family, and the children at home, May, Allie, Teddie and George.

Sam Conlin returned home Sunday morning from Chicago, where he went about three weeks ago to be operated on. Dr. Larrabee accompanied him and remained with him for several days. He says that he is feeling much better since the operation and will have no doubt a speedy recovery to full strength.

Mrs. J. E. Stewart of Maryville is very ill at this time, having been taken to the hospital there last week. Mrs. S. A. Roach went up to see her Monday. Her brother, Chas. Dempsey, also went up the same day. A later report says that she is improving.

Mrs. A. T. Ellis and son Albert of Kansas City, who has been visiting J. L. Key here for some time, went to St. Vannah Wednesday to visit her sister, Mrs. R. G. Hine.

GUILFORD NEWS.

The Bertha Bowers W. C. T. U. will hold their second annual picnic in Rhodes' grove, south of town, Tuesday, August 22. A basket dinner will be spread at noon. Mr. Hall, the prohibition speaker, who spoke at the Barnard picnic, will be the principal speaker of the day.

Last Saturday night a union Sunday school picnic was held at the Whiteford school house, a good big crowd attending, with John F. Case, J. M. Broadhurst and Rev. O. E. Lockart as speaker. An effort is being made to make this occasion, in one form or other, a monthly affair which will bring the people in closer social contact with each other.

CONCEPTION JUNCTION COURIER.

U. L. Sprug, who has been engaged to decorate the interior of Holy Family church, has about completed the work of the sanctuary and it reflects great credit on him as an artist. He will soon commence the decoration of the main body of the church, and when completed it will certainly present a beautiful appearance. The work is being done under the auspices of the Home Talent Dramatic club, the money being secured by entertainments given by them. The club is to be congratulated for their endeavor to beautify their place of worship, and it will be a monument to their zeal and generosity.

On the feast of the Assumption of the B. V. M., August 15th, five of the Rev. Fathers of Conception abbey could commemorate the 25th anniversary day of their ordination to the priesthood. The Very Rev. Peter Duss, Superior of Conception abbey; the Very Rev. Philip Ruggie, prior of St. Michael's, Cottonwood, Idaho; Rev. Andrew Zeigelmaier, pastor at Verona, Mo.; Rev. Paul Wetzelsberger, prefect of studies of Conception college, and Rev. Luke Etlin, chaplain of the convent at Clyde. All have spent twenty-five years of zealous activity in the service of God and can be more highly appreciated by those most familiar with the priestly career. The Courier joins the hosts of friends made in their various positions of life, in cordial felicitations and good wishes.

BURLINGTON JUNCTION POST.

The farmers in the west part of Nodaway county and east part of Atchison county were busy the last of the week putting up the hay and grain stacks which the storm on Wednesday scattered. Some of the corn that was blown down is straightening up in pretty good shape, but lots of corn was badly damaged by both the wind and the hail. off by the stones. After contending with both wet and dry weather this year it was hard luck that the farmers had to deal also with the storm, but that is one of the uncertainties of agriculture.

While fishing in the old river under the bridge west of Burlington Junction several days ago John Messbarger and Elmer Richey discovered several cans of fruit in the water. They took some of them home and found that they contained choice brands of cherries, peaches, strawberries and other fruit. Last Thursday Bert Messbarger, Roy Lyle and some others were fishing at the same place and found a lot more of the fruit. In all they took about 150 cans from the river, most of them being quart size. Bert says that the fruit was not in the river three weeks ago, as several were swimming in there at that time. It is a mystery where the merchandise came from, but looks very much like some store had been "tapped" and the goods dumped into the water later, probably to avoid suspicion.

C. D. and E. F. Caldwell will start their fine show herd of Aberdeen Angus cattle on the show circuit next week, taking them first to Des Moines, Ia. They will show next at the Minnesota state fair. The herd consists of twenty head and is the finest that the Caddells have ever sent on the circuit. All of the important shows in the middle west will be visited, their herd being absent from here about seven weeks. Bob Johnson, the able herdsman, will have charge of the stock.

W. I. Myrick has let a contract to W. M. James for a new brick building on his lot on West Main street, size 25x50 feet. The old building is being torn down today and work on the new building will start Monday morning. This does away with another of the old frame buildings on West Main. May their tribe continue to decrease.

HOPKINS JOURNAL.

On account of the furnace in the school building being removed to make room for the new heating plant, it may be necessary to delay the opening of school a week or more. However, the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and it may be finished in time to open school the first Monday in September, which falls on the 4th this year.

Hopkins people will remember G. A. (Art) Roberts, who used to carry mail here, and at one time was a photographer. He went to Olathe, Kan., a good many years ago, where he married one of the sweetest girls of the Sunflower state, and soon became one of the leading business men of the capital of Johnson county. He later entered the field of politics and was elected probate judge by the Republicans. He has filled the office so ably and impartially that he is now running for the second term without opposition, the Democrats agreeing that it is folly for them to even try to beat him.

By making her pay the light bills herself a woman may eventually be trained to turn the lights off when she is through with them; but if you want a full cup of coffee you will always have to pour it yourself.

While returning from Kansas City last week with Mart Young's new Maxwell car, George Ulmer, Jr., was the victim of two speed demons racing on the rock road between St. Joe and DeKalb. George was pocketed and had to go to the ditch or be run into by the big cars, the result being that the front axle of his car was so badly sprung that it was necessary to send for a new one, which he put in at St. Joe, and continued his homeward journey without further trouble. The racers did not even stop to see if George was hurt. If a fellow had a shotgun handy it would be no harm to use it on such chaps.

John B. Thompson has single comb White Leghorn pullets, hatched the 14th of last March, that begun laying on the 6th day of August, and are now keeping their owner well supplied with eggs. This is going some for chicks but 5 months old, and if anyone can beat or even tie them, let's hear from you.

Harry Woods has found that pouring chicken gravy over a big slice of angel food cake greatly improves the cake, and announces that the next time he has chicken gravy he's going to try it on the ice cream.

Fred Woodruff is erecting a big barn on the Dodd land he recently bought, building it near the old ball diamond. Fred has a string of fine dairy cows and the structure is being put up to house them in this winter.

"A New Idea" at Tent Show Tonight.

Angell's Comedians played their feature bill of the week, "The Little Lost Sister," last night to the largest crowd of the week. Every seat was occupied and standing room was sold. They will close a successful week here tonight with the play, "A New Idea," a four-act Western comedy.

WILL NOT INTERFERE

"I would not have gone to bat had I not known what I was doing," was the answer to this question.

"Is there any likelihood that Governor Major on his return will undo the work you have done?"

"It is my opinion that my action will stand."

The acting governor was told Dr. U. G. Crandall, one of the commissioners removed at St. Joseph, had given out an interview in which he stated that he would not be removed by the lieutenant governor, and asking, "Who is this man Painter, anyway?"

"Is that so?" And he smiled knowingly. "Well, you may say for me that Crandall will find out who Painter is. If he intends to make a fight on this thing he will get one. If he wants to go into court the attorney general will look after his case; and it will be done most thoroughly, too."

Every indication was that Dr. U. G. Crandall and Joseph I. McDonald would fight to the last ditch to retain their offices of police commissioners of St. Joseph, from which they were removed today by an order of Acting Governor W. R. Painter.

When They Ate From Trenchers.

Wentworth Woodhouse has long been famed for its hospitality, but in the eighteenth century, when professional caterers were unknown, guests there had to rough it. On Jan. 7, 1732, Richard Wardman writes from Wentworth Woodhouse that "my lord is to have a great dinner for all his tenants and some other of his loving gentlemen that is parsons and doctors and potbecarys, and none is to be admitted but what has tickits. I am told they have killed eighteen Does, Barons and Sponsoles. His lordship has got a man to make him three Hundred dozen of wooden trenchers. He finds him wood, and the man makes them."

Turning the Turtle.

Turtle hunting is not without excitement. The method of capture consists of the simple act of turning the turtle on its back. Once in this position it is quite helpless. Its only defense is to cover its cap with sand thrown up by the powerful front legs or flippers. These are brought into action in an instant, and woe betide the captor who has his eyes and mouth open at the moment, for the sand is hurled with great force. When turned over the captive is dragged up the beach to above high water mark, and this is no easy task, for it weighs about four hundredweight. — London Telegraph.

Hardly the Thing.

"Why did she break the engagement?"

"Seems he mailed her a love letter in one of these envelopes with a glass front."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
